ASSEMBLY HAS PROPOSALS TO CANCEL PUBLIC HEARINGS ON CHESTERMAN ECONOMY PLAN

Harrisburg (AP)—A proposal was put before the General Assembly's economy committee today that would cancel public hearings on Chesterman Committee suggestions for reorganization of state government agencies.

The Chesterman Committee, through Gov. John S. Fine, submitted to the Legislature recommendations it said would eventually save the commonwealth 100 million dollars a year.

Aside from discussion of the Chesterman report, few developments were expected from this week's two-day session of the Legislature. Most of the top legislative leaders of both parties are in Nevada to witness the atomic bomb tests.

MALENKOV IS CONFIRMED AS SOVIET CHIEF

BULLETIN
Washington, (P)—The State Department today challenged Soviet Premier Malenkov to carry out his words on "peaceful intent" through action to settle the Korean fighting and other issues.

Moscow (P)—The more than 6,000 members of the Supreme Soviet unanimously confirmed Georgi M. Malenkov as the Soviet Union's prime minister yesterday and duly cheered his inaugural address that all "troublesome and involved" issues with the United States and other countries can be solved peacefully.

One foreign diplomat termed the speech to the nation's parliament by Joseph Stalin's successor "almost an offer to sit down with the United States and anyone else and try to ease the world's tension."

In Washington, officials of President Eisenhower's administration said they were studying Malenkov's words carefully but commented that the sincerity of any peace overtures would be shown better by action rather than words.

As in his funeral oration over Stalin's body a week ago, Malenkov in his address to the Soviet delegates in the Kremlin's ancient Hall of St. Andrew again stressed a policy of peace.

Not once did Malenkov refer to "warmongers" or to American "imperialists." Both these terms, formerly so widely applied to activities of U. S. leaders, have been absent from pronouncements of Soviet leaders and the Soviet press since Stalin's death.

Rates Increased By New Hampshire Paper

Manchester, N. H., (P)—The Manchester Union Leader raised its price from five to seven cents a copy today.

The paper said: "Whether we like it or not, it seems as if the nickel newspaper is going the way of the five-cent cigar. But, for the preservation of a strong and free American press, we think it is better that newspapers charge more, rather than lower the quality of their product and service."

Home delivery charges will be 40 cents for six days.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE IN BUFFALO

Buffalo, N. Y., (P)—Sure and it must have been the smile of the saint himself.

Rain ended and the sun broke through just in time to shine on an estimated 25,000 marchers in the St. Patrick's parade yesterday. The parade ended and a few minutes later rain began falling again.

Little White House in Middle of Yucca Flats Due for Fearful Pounding Tuesday

By BILL BECKER

Atom Bomb Site, Nev., (P)—The little white house on the corner of Elm and Main streets, is due to take a fearful pounding tomorrow. And how it comes through may mean life or death to you in an atomic attack.

Fortunately, this house is not on the corner in your home town but in the middle of sprawling Yucca Flat.

There—as 1,000 troops and a group of 20 picked newsmen crouch in foxholes—the two-story frame and concrete structure will be put to a fiery atomic test.

It may or may not withstand the blast from a tower less than a mile and one-half away. A sister structure only 3,500 feet from the tower is expected to be demolished.

It may be a "bomb" to the average man, but tomorrow's test object is still a "device" to D. Alvin C. Graves and his fellow scientists. He said neither a shell nor a bomb is being detonated. But the device, whatever its shape, will still pack a punch equivalent to 15,000 tons of TNT.

The troops and front-line newsmen will be dug in two miles south of the tower. The test houses—built to specifications of the average American home for the Federal Civil Defense Administration—lie east of ground zero.

If the surrounding area is not too hot, radioactively speaking, newsmen and civil defense officials may be able to find out how the Joneses—a family of mannequins—fared in the more distant house.

There are 19 dummies in the white colonial home—seven of them in two bomb shelters in the basement. The rest are in the living room, dining room and an upstairs bedroom.

City police had reported to them four accidents over the weekend, two of which occurred Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, and the other two earlier in the week.

Friday evening, Rev. H. W. Hawkins, 135 Conewango avenue, reported to police that his car struck a pedestrian as he was driving out of his driveway. He will file a formal report, police said.

Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock, Frank Parisi, Jr., N. Marion street extension, while driving west on Third avenue near the Municipal building, struck a car operated by Louis A. Bonace, 811 Pennsylvania avenue, east, as Bonace was maneuvering his car into a parking space along the north curb. No one was injured, and damage was estimated at $140.

Earlier in the week, cars operated by Constance Stoddard, 129 Conewango avenue, and Maxwell T. Arnold, 206 Pioneer street, collided at Fifth and East with about $325 damage. The report stated that the Stoddard car was driving south on East street, and Arnold west on Fifth at the time.

Also, earlier in the week, Albert McDannel, 701 Conewango avenue, reported to police that his vehicle suffered about $300 damage at Fifth and Hickory when he again.

State Funeral Will Be Held in Prague For Czech President

Vienna, Austria, (P)—A state funeral will be held in Prague Thursday for Klement Gottwald, President-dictator of Communist Czechoslovakia, who died suddenly on Saturday.

The Czech radio announced last night that all work will halt throughout Czechoslovakia for the opening five minutes of the services. Before the funeral, the 56-year-old Red chief will lie in state in the Spanish Hall in Prague Castle.

The national observance for Gottwald will be a small-scale version of the elaborate Russian observance last week for his Communist comrade, Joseph Stalin.

Gottwald's place of burial was not announced.

Nor was there any announcement of the successor to Gottwald's dictatorial control over the Czech government, the all-powerful Communist party and the army and police.

Swift New Sabres Are Flown to Wiesbaden

Wiesbaden, Germany, (P)—The U. S. Air Force today bragged itself against the threat of Communist air attacks by bringing in Germany "a number" of swift new F86 Sabre jet planes from England.

The arrival of the Sabres for the first time gives the U. S. Air Force in Germany a plane which can fight on even terms against the fast Soviet MIG-15s which made last week's attacks.

Previously only the older, slower F-84 Thunderjets were based in Germany. The Air Force announced last week that 25 Sabres will come to Germany "very soon" to start a planned program of replacing all the Thunderjets here with Sabres.

But today's announcement indicated the Air Force decided not to wait until these jets could arrive from the United States.

Well Known Resident Arrives From Brazil

William "Bill" Parisi, well known resident who has been working at Santos, Brazil, the past 18 months, arrived in Warren this morning after almost a record flight from that place. Mr. Parisi worked Saturday morning at Santos.

Leaving there at five o'clock that afternoon he flew from Sao Paulo, Brazil, to Rio, thence to New York and from there to Jamestown. He plans to rejoin his wife and daughter Jackie at Santos next week, and does not expect to return to Warren before 1955.

THREE APARTMENTS FIRED BY ERIE BOY

Erie, (P)—A 14-year-old boy has told police he set fire to three apartment houses in the last week and then turned in alarms so he could watch the fire engines.

The fires caused $12,500 damage and drove 42 persons out of their homes.

Farm Home Near Meadville Is Scene of Tragedy; Parents and Three Other Children Escape

Meadville — Five children perished amid screams early yesterday when fire destroyed the Donald S. McElhaney home in Troy township—Townville, Route 1.

Their parents, a sister and two brothers got out alive by leaping from a second-story window about 4:30 a. m. Sunday.

Mrs. McElhaney is in critical condition in the Titusville Hospital suffering from terrible burns over almost her entire body—both legs, back, arms, shoulders, neck and face. She fell from a second-story window after failing to save the others.

The dead children are: Florence McElhaney, 15, Barbara McElhaney, 11, Maxine McElhaney, 10, Gordon McElhaney, 5, Sylvia McElhaney, 3.

Two of the children were hurt when the car speeding their mother and them to the hospital left the road and plowed over a ditch and into a field at the intersection of the Fauncetown-Townville road and Route 408. Mrs. McElhaney, frantic with pain, grasped the arm of Gordon Harris, who was driving them, and the auto went straight across Route 408.

May McElhaney, 15, and her brother, Russell, 4, suffered cuts on the face in the accident. Russell's head hit the windshield and Mrs. McElhaney sustained a cut on the forehead. The children's burns were minor, but both are being treated for shock. Their condition is fair.

In addition to the parents and the two children in the hospital, those who escaped the funeral pyre are Donald Jr., 18, and James McElhaney, 14. Donald jumped from a window with Russell in his arms.

The McElhaney home, known as the Jake Clarke place, stood on the east side of the Fauncetown blacktop about a half-mile south of the intersection with the Hydetown-Townville road.

It was not until 9:30 a. m. that the last pathetic remnant of a body was lifted from the ashes in the cellar and placed in a cardboard box to be taken to a funeral home.

Cause of the fire has not been established. It may have been from a chimney defect near the furnace.

Dr. C. M. Sonne of Titusville, Crawford County deputy coroner, issued a verdict of accidental death for the victims.

Earl today, Mrs. McElhaney was reported at the Titusville Hospital to be "holding her own."

He was a member of Holy Redeemer parish, was affiliated with Warren Lodge of Elks for 36 years, and an ardent worker in the interests of the Warren Sports Boosters Association and other sports activities of his community.

Graduate of Warren High School, he also attended Bellefonte Academy, and Pennsylvania State College, where he was a member of Sigma Nu Fraternity. An active participant in the sports field in his earlier years, he was widely known as a scholastic and independent football referee for 32 years.

Besides his wife, Marguerite, he leaves one son, Benjamin, Jr., and one grandson, Benjamin, III, at home.

Friends will be received at the Peterson Funeral Home at the regular calling hours, starting at seven o'clock this evening, and the rosary will be recited there at 8:00 p. m. Tuesday. Services in his memory will be held at Holy Redeemer church at 9:00 a. m. Wednesday, Father M. E. Dailey officiating, and interment will be made in St. Joseph's cemetery.

JOHNSTOWN IS AFTER CLASS AAA FRANCHISE
Johnstown (P)—A group of local sportsmen today sought Baltimore's franchise in the Class AAA International Baseball League.

The Johnnies Inc., operator of the Johnstown team in the defunct Middle Atlantic League, said it has contacted Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, but that he has not yet replied.

President Clay D. Harshberger said Johnstown "has the park and the people to sustain a Class AAA baseball operation. We have over 800,000 possible customers in the area."

The Point Stadium in Johnstown seats 14,000 persons and is equipped for night baseball.

Famous Hobart Concert Band En Route to New York City Stops in Warren for Lunch

Warren, home of the famous Boy Choir and a town known far and wide for its love of music and for its particular interest in bonds, was appropriately chosen as noon-day host for the Hobart Concert Band of Hobart Indians, which arrived 103 strong for luncheon at the Carver Hotel shortly after 12 o'clock today.

The 90-piece band, with its party including 13 others, is en route to New York City on a week's tour. Leaving Hobart Saturday morning, the band gave a concert and was tendered a reception in Warsaw, Ind., Saturday night. It played in Lorain, Ohio, Sunday, and will be in Waverly, N. Y., tonight. Concerts in Wilkes-Barre, Stroudsburg, Orange, and South Orange are scheduled before arrival in New York, and the band will play in Morristown, N. J., en route home.

Its members are junior high and high school students, and in the days when there were national high school competitions the Hobart band was given the national title for several consecutive years.

A concert and marching band, the group recently made an instructional film for Indiana University training courses.

Robert Worthington, father of the band's director, Richard Worthington, together with Mrs. Anthony Snak, Mrs. Henry Marcotte, Mrs. Fred Ahlgren and Mrs. Donald Ballantyne, the women representing the band mothers, arrived in Warren Sunday night to arrange for luncheon here today.

The band is traveling in three large buses, accompanied by a truckload of instruments. At the Carver, the musicians ate by shifts in the newly opened Coffee Shop.

Many Candidates Rush to Get Under Wire With Petitions

With the deadline for filing of petitions drawing near, many were brought to the county commissioner's office over the weekend and today. Five o'clock this afternoon is the final time for a candidate to make known his candidacy.

One of the petitions filed early this afternoon was that of John W. Newmaker, 307 East street, as a candidate for nomination as councilman from the first ward, on the Republican ticket. He was the second candidate to announce from this ward, since a petition has already been filed for T. L. Armstrong, 207 Fourth avenue.

Others who filed today were P. C. Ostergard, Republican candidate for registrar and recorder, and Dr. Arthur O'Connor, for school director on the same ticket.

First Place Award For the Dragonette

Congratulations are in order for The Dragonette, Warren High School's newspaper, for receiving the first place award in its division for this year's papers from The Columbia Scholastic Press Association.

The announcement was made at Columbia University, New York, on Friday.

Miss Clara Spade, instructor of the news writing class, which publishes The Dragonette, returned this morning from the annual three-day conference. Over 4,000 students and advisors from all over the country were present at the sessions held Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Columbia University. The conference closed with a luncheon banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel Saturday.

Along the ground front, probing beams from Allied searchlights flushed Red infantrymen on two fronts just before daybreak and at least 50 Communists were chopped up in a hail of explosives from U. N. artillery.

No major engagements were reported but sharp local fights flared across the front.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported Allied tanks and artillery ripped into Red positions with telling effect last week. A weekly report showed 845 Red bunkers destroyed or damaged and 740 Communist gun positions smashed.

100 VEHICLES ARE DAMAGED OR DESTROYED

Seoul (AP)—A quick-thinking Australian fighter-bomber pilot bottled up a long Communist supply convoy today and paved the way for one of the biggest truck-busting forays of the Korean War.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said more than 100 vehicles were destroyed or damaged in a climactic air strike that followed a day-long series of air blows against Red targets.

Warrant Officer Bob Turner of Adelaide spotted a mile-long Communist convoy south of Wonsan on North Korea's East Coast. He roared to the head of the line and blew up the first two trucks with an attack dive. Then he circled back and got the last four.

The Reds were stalled on a narrow road, a steep cliff on one side, a sheer drop on the other.

More Aussie Meteor jets and U. S. Marine and Air Force war planes streaked in to attack the trapped trucks. They darted up and down the line, setting off gasoline fire and explosions.

The day's aerial activity got underway at dawn when Allied warplanes dove deep into Northwest Korea and turned a Red rail yard into smoking, burning shambles.

Other fighter-bombers ranged over the Communist supply routes and front lines, looting their bombs on targets of opportunity.

Screening Sabres tangled with Communist MIG-15s and shot down one, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

F84 Thunderjets hit the rail yards at Chongju and set off a series of secondary explosions.

Along the ground front, probing beams from Allied searchlights flushed Red infantrymen on two fronts just before daybreak and at least 50 Communists were chopped up in a hail of explosives from U. N. artillery.

No major engagements were reported but sharp local fights flared across the front.

Contributions to Red Cross Fund Lagging

Red Cross Headquarters had little to report on the Red Cross Fund this morning, above the $14,862.0 figure reported on Friday.

Returns on Saturday and early this morning were negligible. Some increase in the returns from the nine wards was noted as well as an increase in returns from the county areas.

However the Special Gifts, Industrial and Commercial reports were in a state of flux and no accurate reports were available on these 3 important divisions beyond what had been reported Friday.

Workers in these three divisions will be contacted during the day in hopes that they may have returns on before evening or early Tuesday which will enable Red Cross Headquarters to give a more complete and comprehensive report, as to the progress of the drive, sometime Tuesday.

Professor Einstein Discusses His New Theory Explaining All Physical Laws

Princeton, N. J., (P)—Prof. Albert Einstein, taking a rare break from his customary seclusion, discussed yesterday his new theory which aims at explaining all physical laws.

The new unified field theory is mathematically correct, the white-haired scientist told a news conference, but he has "not been able to find out if there are any physical truths in it."

What's more, Einstein said he has not been able to determine whether the theory "is true in the ordinary sense of the word."

The news conference was held in connection with an announcement naming a new college under Jewish auspices as the Albert Einstein College of Medicine.

Einstein, who was 74 Saturday, was honored at a luncheon where he was notified formally about the college named for him. The college, to cost 10 million dollars, will be built in The Bronx, New York, as part of the first unit of a $6-million-dollar medical center.

Then came the news conference, accompanied by the flashing of photographers' bulbs and the humming of newsworld cameras.

But the conference was not spent solely in discussing the new theory. Reporters took the opportunity to ask the bushy-haired, gentle-faced scientist some personal questions.

Asked why he became a scientist, Einstein said he saw a compass when he was five, and learned about plane geometry when he was 12—and that these "stimuli" apparently "had considerable influence on my development."

In color television, the primary colors are not red, blue and yellow. Rather they are red, blue and green. This combination was picked, the experts say, because they not only reproduce white in the proper combination but will affect all other hues as well.

There were many inquiries and telephone calls early Saturday evening when a large accumulation of debris on a lot west of Seventh street between East and Market was burned. "The Beautiful Allegheny Valley"

(By JOHN SAGE)

CHAPTER FOUR

Now back across the river to the Dream highway. Having left the narrow and while passing over the double S curves on the fringe of the Allegheny National Forest you will observe by the roadside an unusual look that nature has carved out of the hillside. Here prominently displayed on a tree by the road side is a sign that reads "Beauty Spot". Placed there by the forest superintendent in the shade of overhanging trees, is a large substantial all weather table for the use of picnickers and others who occasionally camp there overnight.

To heighten the beauty and charm of this place, sparkling water from Crystal Springs in the adjoining dell form a rapidly moving streamlet that cascades in a fascinating manner over a tumult of moss covered rocks, boulders and crevices.

Such an unusual place as this, secluded in the woods, should appeal to those interested in nature's scenic solitude. What a place for profound meditation!

raft men and woodsmen of that locality. It faded away with the timber from the hills and valleys and now only some of the large foundation stones remain to mark the location of this popular hostelry.

After this stately old Pennsylvania House had stood vacant for a number of years, Mike Kightlinger purchased it, tore it down and built himself a home at the mouth of Hedge Hog Hollow which replaced his former home that had been razed by fire.

The interesting story that follows was related to me by Clifford Myers, a well known gentleman residing in Tidououte, who enjoys a wide circle of friends and acquaintances and a personal friend of mine since boyhood. He accompanied Mr. Kightlinger on the exciting last trip to the trap and was also closely identified with the related following events.

Mike Kightlinger had long harbored a desire to capture a bear alive, so in the late fall of 1912 he wandered up Hedge Hog Hollow about a half mile where he located a likely looking spot. Here he built a pen about five feet square from some small logs which he securely spiked together. He provided an opening with a sliding drop door which was attached to a figure four that was baited with meat.

Across the river is where the Pennsylvania House was located. This was a large three story frame building. The entire third floor was used as a dance hall, that finally developed into a notorious place of amusement. This hotel was built by James Conroe in the early rafting days of more than three score years ago, largely for the accommodation of the river were brought up from his home, after which Mike learned that Cliff entertained no desire to partake in the anticipated struggle. So he cautiously maintained a safe distance where, with the use of a long spring pole he released the door, and as the bear came out Mike tackled him. A mighty rough and tumble battle ensued, in which he lost a good share of his clothes. His hand was badly bitten and he sustained many clawings from which blood trickled in an alarming manner.

The result appeared doubtful, for about five minutes, in the opinion of Mr. Myers who appears to have been filling the role of spectator and referee.

However, Mike finally got a strangle hold and choked the bear into submission. During the ten minutes the bear lay prostrate on the ground recovering from his near-death struggle, Cliff assisted in adjusting the ropes and chain on the animal. Mike took the lead down the hollow with a chain in hand and the bear secured on the other end. Cliff, in the rear with a rope in each hand, was having difficulty a-plenty in holding the bear back from overtaking Mike, with whom it was presumed he was anxious for another bout. In this manner with caution and patience they finally succeeded in walking the bear to the Kightlinger home where he was confined on a heavy wire out in the open, for several weeks.

Rites for Veteran Printer Will Be Held Tomorrow

Services in memory of Clarence M. Mahood, retired printer, who died at the Warren General Hospital Friday following a short illness, will be held from Holy Redeemer church Tuesday morning at nine o'clock. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

The parish rosary will be recited this evening at eight o'clock at the funeral home.

Mr. Mahood, born in Richland township, Venango county, January 15, 1882, started in the printing business at the Emlenton News, when twelve years of age. He came to Warren to work for the late S. E. Walker in the Evening Times job shop May 31, 1905, and has been a resident of this community since that time. He worked for both the Times and Mirror. He had started a job shop called the Peerless Press at 344 Pennsylvania avenue west, which he operated from 1912 to 1918. In 1930 he and his wife opened the Warren Radio Shop, which they conducted with a son for some years. This store later developed into the Mahood News Room which was conducted by Mr. Mahood and wife until disposed of to Ray Bimber on account of age infirmities of the owners.

During the latter years of his experience as a printer, after local newspapers had abandoned job shops, Mr. Mahood took up the operation of typesetting machines, becoming efficient in this branch of the work, which he followed until the consolidation of the Evening Times and Morning Mirror.

Mr. Mahood volunteered for service in the Philippines in 1899 and was honorably discharged for disability incurred in line of duty January 9, 1900. He was married to Mary Ann O'Connor in Ridgeway March 30, 1901, who died February 26, 1944. He is survived by his second wife, Jennie, two daughters and three sons, mentioned in Friday's article. In addition to these with 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild, he has the following other survivors: Two sisters, Mrs. Joseph Diem, of Emlenton, and Mrs. Kenneth Miller, Denver, Colo. Seven stepchildren also survive: Charles Shrubbs, Tiona; Mrs. Dorothy Austin, Kane; Mrs. Ruth Dalton, James City; William Shrubbs, Jamestown, N. Y.; Francis and Robert, of California, and Walter of Beaver.

He was a member of St. Joseph's parish since coming to Warren, until two years ago when he affiliated with Holy Redeemer, and moved to Elm street to make his home. He was also a member of Warren Typographical Union, and a charter member of Lieut. Lewis M. Clark Camp, No. 108, United Spanish War Veterans, being a past commander of the organization and later holding the office of chaplain.

Letters to the Editor

Warren, March 12, 1953.

Dear Editor:
After your visit at my home Tuesday evening, and the story of my show you so generously gave me in Wednesday's issue, I decided it proper to provide a little more information for the benefit of your readers. Over the phone you told me and rather apologized for only touching the surface of my great exhibit. You mentioned or named about fifteen exhibits, whereas I have thirty-five. Let me add this work was on my mind as far back as in 1907, then in 1925, I cut out some squares to start the display, and when nothing was done during the ensuing years those squares went into the stove. It was not until 1949 that I determined ed to go through with my ideas and plans, the results of which you will have the privilege to see in about four weeks. My plans are, and have been, to take this show farther than Warren. So if I live, after my sojourn in Warren I hope to load the show on a special carrier, like a Greyhound bus or similar vehicle, but with plain sides on which will be painted a raft the width and length of a forty-foot carrier. Daylight will come from windows in the roof. I plan to have this show travel the shores and inland of all the rivers in the United States. And as my knowledge goes back to 1853, when my grandfather and grandmother first came to this section of the country, from which time I can give a detailed account of the lumbering industry in Warren county up to 1930 on this twelfth day of March, 1953. As for my studying in the school at Madison, Wis., that has no bearing on my show, since I took up wood growth and wood structure along with dry kiln work.

Yours,
E. W. HONHART.

TOUGH NUT TO CRACK
Months ago sober warnings were issued that the victorious Republicans would get a shock the day they took over the government and saw how few jobs they could count as spoils.
The GOP leaders understand now. So far their efforts to install deserving party members in the great federal bureaucracy have been about as effective as chipping away at a glacier with an ice pick.
Much of the federal personnel list is properly under Civil Service safeguards. President Eisenhower would seem wholly within the bounds of reason and fairness, with his plan to strip Civil Service status off policy-making jobs which were blanketed into the service to keep Democrats at work.
Operation Turnover, if it may be so labeled, is proving just about as difficult for the Eisenhower team to crack as is figuring out how to break the Korean stalemate.

FORGET THEIR MASTERS
The 96 members of the U. S. Senate were elected by the people of their states and they are paid by the people through the federal Treasury.
Nevertheless, warns Bruce Bissat, NEA Service editorial writer, on too many occasions too many of these gentlemen incline to forget they are servants, not masters. They conduct their operations, especially Senate committee chairmanships, as if they were little czars ruling over their private realms.
They should remember that they sit in the Senate by sufferance of the ordinary voter, not by some divine right. The Senate is often called the "greatest deliberative body in the world." But if some senators don't pay more heed to their real masters, the people may quite deliberately haul them off their little thrones and install them in front-porch rocking chairs back home.

We join in extending sympathy to the families of two well known Warren men whose names are found in the obituary column today - Ben H. Taylor and Clarence Mahood. The passing of these men, both remembered for affable and pleasing personalities which won the friendship and admiration of all persons with whom they came in contact, brings sadness to many in the community.

The Warren office of the Internal Revenue Department will be open until ten o'clock this evening for convenience of taxpayers waiting for the deadline to file income tax returns, and it is a safe bet that the office will be filled when it comes time to pull down the blinds and lock the doors.

Today ends the six weeks period covering the forecast for weather beginning with Groundhog Day, Monday, February 2. The prediction, according to the weather six weeks ago, was for continued winter, however, it has been anything but that, excepting for occasional blustery days with very little snow.

Spiritual Diary for Lent
Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved. —Acts 16:31.
Today's Message
Salvation is not the result of a single act, but of a continuing belief and trust in the grace of a loving Saviour. Through faith we hold on to Him, feeling assured that He will not fail us. Every venture in life demands faith, and the more important the undertaking, the greater the faith to be exercised. No wonder, then, that faith in religion surpasses all other faith, and carries us out beyond the tangible things of life into the realm of Divinity.
Faith, therefore, can do much to buoy us up in the dark hours of distress and grief, in sorrow and sickness, in bereavement and loss; but it should do more. It should become an integral part of the blood that courses through our bodies, an ennobling vine about the tendrils of our hearts and minds, and a vital, radiant note expressed in every word we utter.
Then in all the ever-broadening affairs of life, let us maintain a consecrated faith in God's goodness, love and devotion for us, and accept His plan as our plan and His will as our will. "If God be for us who can be against us?" should be sufficient for every need.
—CHET C. HENSON
First Methodist Church,
Corsicana, Tex.
Today's Prayer
O Christ, the "Author and Finisher of our faith," the friend of the friendless, the comforter of those in sorrow, strength for the weak, salvation for all who believe and trust Thee, we commit ourselves anew into Thy keeping today. Amen.

Here And There
It will surprise many present-day readers to learn that the late Jim Jeffries, who reigned as heavyweight boxing champion from 1890 to 1905, when he retired undefeated, passed through Warren on Friday, March 13, 1903, with his sparring partner, Robert Fitzsimmons, on their way from Bradford to Oil City.
We haven't talked to any person who remembers seeing the famous battler on his tour through the area, but there are doubtless many who will recall it after reading this column today.
Champion James Jeffries and his sparring partner, Robert Fitzsimmons, passed through the city this morning on their way from Bradford to Oil City. A large crowd had assembled to see the two exponents of the pugilistic art, but when Warren was reached both were soundly sleeping with thoughts of maddening crowds and squared circles far from their minds. However, sleeping or waking, the Warren crowd was bound to see them and boarded the train and gazed at the sleeping beauties. Both are large men and from the amount of jewelry displayed by Champion Jeffries he believes in showing that he can gather large piles of coin by his husky punches. It was some little time before the passengers southward bound were able to get on the train, owing to the crowd.
Apparently the gladiators failed to make much of an impression in one of their exhibitions in this section. Without mentioning the paper the Mirror, on March 14, 1903, reprinted the following with a comment which said "One of the papers in a town recently visited by Jeffries and Fitzsimmons, says:"
"About 1,100 people, who had paid an admission fee of from 50 cents to $1.50 to see Jeffries and

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★
Stalin News Caught American Propaganda Forces Off Guard

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Russian Premier Stalin's death has given the United States one of the best opportunities it has ever had for waging its cold war of words against communism.
While the Russians are confused and off balance, the Eisenhower administration has its big chance to strike effective blows for its new and more dynamic foreign policy.
This first test, however, found the psychological warfare forces not fully prepared for action. A lot of big and little shots were routed out of bed in the middle of the night. There was a lot of strategy conferring by the dawn's early light.
What came out, however, was neither new, dynamic nor aggressive. President Eisenhower's own statement was in the best taste—a mild expression of sympathy for the Soviet people.
A violent call upon the Soviet and satellite peoples to throw off their yoke of communism might have been in keeping with some of the political campaign speeches made by his supporters.
A statement of that kind from the head of the United States government would have been the wrong thing. At the correct moment Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, the author of this new policy, and all other State Department officials were therefore silent.
DOWN at the working staff level of department heads and bureau chiefs, there were just as many conferences about what to do as there were at the top.
From one planning staff came a conclusion that this was a big opportunity. Here was the chance to throw at the Communist world all the proposed settlements of differences in a new peace drive.
It might include: The plan for international control of atomic energy and the world limitation of armaments; the late Sen. Brien McMahon's 1950 resolution for a five-year, $50-billion Marshall Plan in exchange for disarmament and guarantees of peace; conclusion of the Austrian peace treaty; conclusion of a Korean peace treaty; unification of Germany; an end to the cold war.
The answer came back that it was an interesting idea. But it would not be adopted. Not just yet, anyway.
At the end of the day on which the Stalin news broke, a policy guidance memo was issued to the IIA—the State Department's International Information Administration. It said that the writers for the Voice of America and other media were to play the news straight, and not to speculate.
MEANTIME, in New York, the people who have to get out the Voice of America script and those who issue the "wireless" news bulletin from Washington had to produce copy.
Here are a couple of highly condensed excerpts of the newscast beamed behind the Iron Curtain:
"Good evening. This is the Voice of America. With the announcement that Stalin lies near death, the upper crust of the Stalinist regime in the satellite countries is on tenterhooks. These gentlemen don't know right this minute if their goose is cooked... or marked for the oven at some future date."
"In the final analysis, the only ones who can win in such a situation are the people. Stalin dies, and they win. Molotov refuses to support Gottwald and they win. Malenkov throws out Rakosi and they win... For them the great struggle for power begins in the heart of the Kremlin. The jackals must lose—and the people must win."
There was more of this, spreading doubt but encouragement, with this conclusion: "And now, this is the Voice of America saying goodbye. Play the cards cautiously now. Remember you are not alone. Remember that together we hold the winning hand."

Bob Fitzsimmons, the alleged champion fighters of the world, in a ten-round boxing contest, left Keaggy theatre Monday night thoroughly disgusted with the two pugs. After the two preliminary bouts between amateurs, the managers of the combination announced with a mighty oratorical flourish the appearance of the two greatest fighters in the world. The three brief rounds in which they participated consumed less than ten minutes, and was as poor an exhibition of boxing as can be imagined. In reality it did not rise to the dignity of a sparring match, the time being occupied in horse-play, and decidedly bad horse-play at that.

Of the two, Fitzsimmons was the more genteel in both manner and appearance, Jeffries resembling more an uncouth lout than an ideal athlete. Between the alleged rounds he busied himself in the mastication of a huge mass of chewing gum, smacking his big jaws in a most disgusting manner as he shifted the filthy mass from side to side in his mouth. Both were awkward as cows, and seemed to feel relieved, as did the audience, when "time" was called to do the disappearance act behind the scenes, which was followed by cries of "fake", "go back and lie down", hisses, catcalls, etc.

Terse, Tart and Timely: The field office of the Internal Revenue Department in this city, at the Post Office building, will be open this evening until ten o'clock for the convenience of income taxpayers who are waiting until the last minute to file 1952 returns.
... Merchandise clubs resuming in and around Warren under the old system of staging weekly drawings, following receipt of news that a decision has been issued rescinding a rule that such projects were subject to a $50 gambling tax... His many friends and patients were interested to note that Dr. John Larson has opened new offices in the Medical Center.
... An interesting dinner party took place at the Chary Restaurant, Miami, Fla., on the evening of March 6th honoring Emil H. Lampe, well known Warren resident and business man, who was feted in honor of his 80th birthday, with his two daughters, Mrs. W. F. Crossett and Mrs. Hugh Robertson present to help make certain that the event was in keeping with the importance of the occasion, also in attendance was son-in-law Burgess Crossett, who flew back to Washington from Warren after the affair... Members of Farrah Grotto will be eating pancakes at Grotto Temple this evening... Busy day for the staff at the county commissioners' office receiving last-minute petitions.

RIDE THE BUS
I see plenty of started-up traffic every day..... auto drivers losing their tempers..... putting themselves in a bad mood for the tasks ahead. I often wonder if they know how easily they can avoid high blood pressure by accepting the service we can give them.
In recent years, city traffic problems have developed faster than they can be solved—the thousands of bus stops in Erie make it for granted they'll reach their destinations promptly, relaxed and refreshed by smooth-riding comfort.

REMEMBER HER BIRTHDAY

WITH A GIFT CERTIFICATE

Mr. and Mrs. Richard G. Probst

Palms, lighted tapers in candelabra, and a large basket of white glads and snapdragons were used in a simple setting in First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Mary Lenore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Radspinner, 115 Redwood street, and Richard Gustave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Probst, Clarendon R. D. 1.

Dr. Robert S. Steen read the double ring service at 2:30 p. m. with Carroll A. Fowler at the organ and Robert Dietrich, tenor, singing "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted by her father, the bride chose a tulle and satin dress over tulle and carried an arm bouquet of calla lilies. Her gown was styled with Queen Anne collar in a fitted bodice, long sleeves forming points over the hands, and a cathedral train. Her veil fell fingertip length from a cap of matching lace.

Mrs. George N. Joy, Clarendon R. D. 1, as matron of honor for her sister, wore a green net over tulle, with sweetheart hat of matching net, and carried an arm bouquet of white lilies.

Completing the bridal party, George A. Probst of Youngsville, was best man for his brother; ushers were Dr. Robert A. Probst of Warren and George N. Joy, Clarendon R. D. 1.

Both mothers were gowned in navy blue, with white accents, and had white camellia corsages.

The reception followed immediately in the church parlors, where the bride's table was centered with a white floral arrangement of snapdragons, carnations and sweet peas, flanked by white tapers. The four-tier wedding cake, topped with miniature bridal figures, was served by Mrs. R. A. Probst and Mrs. George A. Probst; Mrs. E. J. Cochener and Mrs. Velutis Radspinner, aunts of the bride, poured; Betty Lou Weaver, Dorothy Anderson and Lois Gadsby were aides; Marjorie Marker managed the guest book.

Among the 125 guests were relatives and friends from Tionesta, Jamestown, Oil City, Greensburg, Erie, Pittsburgh, Frewsburg, Clarendon and Youngsville.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a powder blue frock, gray accessories and had a white iris corsage. After March 21, the couple will be at home to friends in Clarendon R. D. 1.

Both young people are Warren High graduates, the bride being employed by New Process Company; Mr. Probst by Walker Creamery Products Company. He was only recently released from service after two years' duty with the U. S. Army.

Honoring the bride-elect with miscellaneous showers have been Mrs. E. J. Cochener, Mrs. C. W. Alford and Mrs. Velutis Radspinner. The rehearsal party was given by Dr. and Mrs. Robert Probst at their home.

The next meeting will be held at 8:00 p. m. Wednesday, March 26.

"Y" Secretary Is Speaker for PTA

Lander-Dan Walton, general secretary of the Warren YMCA, was guest speaker for the Sugar Grove-Farmington Grade School PTA meeting, held in the local school. He talked on the work of this more than 100 year old organization and showed a special film. Mr. Walton pointed out the purpose of the "Y" is to "teach the Golden Rule as the guiding principle of living; to extend the kingdom of God; to be a friend of youth; and to meet the mental, physical and spiritual needs of youth."

The meeting was opened with singing "Holy, Holy, Holy," with Merle Rossell leading and Mrs. James Marquis as pianist. Mrs. Walter Sweeney read the 98th Psalm and two poems, followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Mrs. Clifford Stokes, Mrs. Alex Brown and Mrs. Mitchell Mahan were named as a nominating committee. The president urged that all who can do so will attend the Warren County Council meeting to be held in Russell in April.

Ruth Millett

Do We Call Her 'Mamie' Or Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower?

NOW that she is the First Lady of the land, is it disrespectful to refer to the lady with the fetching bangs and the friendly smile as "Mamie"?

A reader gently chides me for doing so in the following letter: "I enjoyed your writing about 'why people like Mamie' with one exception. Now is your opportunity to help correct the common way people have of speaking about her. She should always be called Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower and the newspapers should honor her by always printing it in that way. She is the First Lady of the land and is entitled to dignity."

Maybe so. But isn't there a lot more recognition of the fact that our First Lady is a charming individual in her own right when we sometimes refer to her affectionately as "Mamie"?

FAME IS NOT A NEW EXPERIENCE

AFTER all, our new First Lady has been the wife of an important man for a long time. And even though she has stayed out of the limelight herself, she has managed to maintain her warm personality, her individuality (including her bangs), and her own informal way of meeting important occasions.

And even though she is the First Lady, she is the same Mamie (sorry, Mrs. Eisenhower) who stepped out on the platform of her husband's campaign train with pin curls in her hair to greet well-wishers.

They wanted to see Mamie and she was gracious enough to consent even though she wasn't dressed for a public appearance.

To us that kind of personality spells "Mamie" rather than "Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower." But as I say, maybe I am wrong.

Perhaps we ought to leave it up to the First Lady herself. So I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll send this column to the President's wife and ask her how she feels about "Mamie" versus "Mrs. Eisenhower." And if she has time to tell us I'll let you know through this column.

Chinese Doctor Is PTAMeeting Guest

A large number of parents and guests enjoyed a delicious twelve dinner served in the clubrooms prior to the March meeting of the St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher Unit. Tables were attractively decorated in keeping with St. Patrick's Day.

Freda Davis and Rhea Eggleston serving as co-chairmen.

Visits to the classrooms were followed by a short business session conducted by President Charles Musante. He then presented Dr. Shao Chi Yu, of Warren State Hospital medical staff, who spoke on the school system of his native China. He also told how, during World War II, people of the interior of China became associated with Americans for the first time through soldiers stationed there; and expressed the hope and belief that "some day we may be able to again establish friendly relations with that country, now under Red domination." Dr. Yu also stressed the difference between respect shown to older persons in China and in this country.

Following the talk, routine reports were presented by standing committees. Mrs. Jennie Book reported on the recent bake sale, thanking her committee and all who helped in making it a success. She also read several suggestions and helpful hints that might assist others who may have charge of such sales in the future.

The attendance prize for February was again awarded the eighth grade.

For the program, moving pictures demonstrating the progress of electricity, "Freedom and Power," were shown through the courtesy of the Pennsylvania Electric Company.

Louise Nelly, Eleanor Smith, Viola Lindmark and Elizabeth Brasington were chosen as delegates; Ethel Baldensperger, Jean Steele and Margaret Drivas, alternates. DAR Membership Enjoys Program of Foster Favorites

The March meeting of General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held in the YWCA activities building Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. G. Cable, regent, was in charge, opening the session with the organization's ritual. Mrs. F. P. Kirwin, chaplain, assisted and members gave the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

At the business session, monthly reports were presented and accepted. Miss Harriet Eaton gave a short talk on two personal heirlooms which she passed about for the group to admire.

Miss Florence Shawkey, program chairman, presented Mrs. W. E. Yeager as guest of the afternoon. As a preface to the topic, "Stephen Foster's Songs," Mrs. Yeager gave an instructive and interesting sketch of Foster's life, relating many of his personal experiences. This was followed by the historical background of many of his beloved songs.

Mrs. Yeager then delighted the chapter by singing with fine interpretation "Old Folks at Home," "Massa's in de Cold, Cold Ground," "Oh Susanna," "Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair," "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming," and "Beautiful Dreamer."

Mrs. Peter Horning furnished a beautiful accompaniment for the singer.

Ten was served from a table arranged in tribute to Stephen Foster and St. Patrick. Mrs. D. C. Armstrong heading the hostess committee. In the center of the table were yellow and white, jonquils, intermingled with lettuce green tapers; at the corners and at either side were shamrock cut-outs in varying sizes and on these were written the music and words of several of the Foster melodies.

Taught by Miss Martha Bartoo, the group will play "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," "Blue Bells of Scotland," "Whispering Hope," "Wearing of the Green," "The Skaters' Waltz," and "America."

CARS TO BE CHECKED

Sgt. Donald Holmes, command Police, said this morning that a concentrated drive is being made by his men on drivers who are operating their vehicles at night without proper tail-lights. He stated that many violations of this section of the motor code have been noted in recent days, and warned motorists to see that the lights are operating properly.

FIRE CALLS

Firemen were called out twice over the weekend. Saturday evening, at 7:49 o'clock, they rushed the penitentiary to the Savoy Cafe on Liberty street where Ben Taylor, well known Warren man, had suffered a heart attack. The equipment was not used, Mr. Taylor having died before firemen arrived. Yesterday morning, at 6:25 o'clock, the sprinkler alarm system at the East street Sylvania plant sounded off and sent all equipment to that place. - There was no fire.

EMERGENCIES TREATED

Three youngsters were given treatment at Warren General Hospital over the weekend for injuries received at home. Susie Gustafson, 3, 12½ Water street, sustained a laceration of the left thumb from a dish and required three sutures; Patty Ann Cloutman, Clarendon, fell from a chair and suffered a possible fracture of the right shoulder; Philip Rockwell, Russell R. D. 1, aged 20 months, also fell from a chair and cut the back of his head, the wound requiring five sutures. All three were discharged after treatment.

CLERKS MEET

The bi-monthly meeting of McKean-Warren-Potter-Cameron counties chapter of the PLCEB Employees Association was held yesterday at the American Legion Home in Bradford with a good attendance. Members discussed several bills pending before the legislature, which have the support of the association. Chief of these is a measure amending the Pennsylvania "no-strike" law, which would compel arbitration within 15 days after it is requested, and would bind both employees and the governor and his departments to the findings of the arbitration board. Another is a salary reclassification now under negotiation, which would remedy certain inequities in the schedule presently in effect. Members of the local chapter did not express approval of a bill which would give State Store employees a five-day week, preferring suitable pay for the present six-day week instead. The next meeting of the group will take place in Warren on Sunday, May 17.

WHY DID THESE MEN FEAR TYRANNY IN ANY FORM OF GOVERNMENT?

EACH OF THESE WELL-EDUCATED MEN HAD STUDIED HISTORY.
THEY KNEW HUMAN EXPERIENCE FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS.
THEY KNEW THE DANGERS OF TYRANNY IN EVERY FORM OF GOVERNMENT.

- THEY KNEW KINGS AND DICTATORS HAD BECOME TYRANTS BY HAVING GREAT AUTHORITY OVER THE INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE.
- THEY KNEW THAT, IN A REPUBLIC LIKE ANCIENT ROME, REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PEOPLE BROUGHT TYRANNY BY IGNORING INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS
- THEY KNEW THAT DEMOCRACIES BECAME TYRANNICAL WHEN MAJORITY RULE DESTROYED INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS OF MINORITIES

THEY KNEW THAT THE INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS TO LIFE, TO LIBERTY, TO EARN, HOLD AND DISPOSE OF PROPERTY COME FROM GOD AND NOT FROM GOVERNMENT... THAT THESE GOD-GIVEN RIGHTS ARE SUPERIOR TO ANY AUTHORITY ON EARTH — AND KINGS, DICTATORS, REPRESENTATIVES OR, EVEN THE MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE CANNOT RIGHTLY INTERFERE.

SO, OUR FOUNDING FATHERS FORMED A REPUBLIC
IN WHICH THE RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUALS WERE SUPREME.

THIS WAS THE FIRST AND ONLY TIME IN HISTORY THAT GOD-GIVEN INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS LIMITED WHAT GOVERNMENT MIGHT DO!

IN 1789, OUR GOVERNMENT WAS LIMITED BY INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS BUT TODAY, INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS ARE LIMITED BY OUR GOVERNMENT!

IN 1789, our government was the responsibility of the people. But today people have become the responsibility of our government.

In 1789, Americans were free from the tyranny of government. People were responsible for supporting and limiting their government — and for making their own living.

Today, people are forced to pay for unlimited government. And government-planners and controllers have taken on the responsibility to feed, clothe, and house the people; the responsibility for old age; the responsibility for dividing the national income among those who produce it and those who do not produce; the responsibility of telling people what they should buy or sell...

for how long or how hard they should work and under what conditions; the responsibility for deciding what buyers of food who live in the city should pay to producers of food who live off the soil.

Government-planners now resort to subsidies, loans, penalties, rules and restrictions which interfere, limit, ignore, and destroy the God-given individual rights of the people.

In the name of Democracy, government-planners assume they have the same medieval wisdom which brought tyranny to all forms of government throughout all history!

Success of Gymnastic Exhibition Is Outstanding

Show Is Likely To Become An Annual Event

Beay and Warren High School girls, under the sponsorship of the Girls Athletic Association, presented a gymnastic exhibition at the Beay Junior High gym Thursday and Friday of last week that will remain in the minds of Warren people for a long time. The first of its type to be held here in a decade, the performance attracted a sell-out crowd for both nights and was a tremendous success.

A great deal of credit goes to each individual participant for his well-done part in the program and especially to the physical education instructors, Mrs. Janie Black and Miss Marty Sable, who directed the show.

The exhibition, although a little drawn out in time on one occasion, held the attention of the audience throughout and each part was well received with applause. It was not straight gymnastics, but well distributed between various phases from dances to baton twirling to tumbling and contained just the right amount of humor.

Then, too, while the fairer sex has always taken a back seat in the athletic spotlight, it has given the junior and senior high girls the opportunity to show the public what they do in their physical education classes, as well as their ability in this field. Without doubt the show left an impression that will demand its return annually.

Mrs. Black's Beay girls did the first half of the program, starting with free exercises. Second on the list was baton twirling by the ninth grade girls and this was followed by a square dance. In the latter number the girls did the "Goofus" step, which is starting a "comeback" just as is the Charleston. Working with the high school majorettes, which are also trained by Mrs. Black, the eighth grade twirlers were in the following number. Next was a novelty dance, in which the girls sat on chairs and tap danced and made various motions with their bodies.

For a finale the entire Beay student body sang the school alma mater and while doing so the performers slowly formed the word "BEATY" the full length of the floor. Each letter was formed by a group in a different costume.

A comedy entitled "Maestros of Mischief," sent the high school portion of the program off with plenty of laughs. Then with the lights out and the use of red and blue spots, a number of the girls demonstrated rhythmic gymnastics that was strictly for the boys was shown otherwise in the next number and then balances and pyramids were done.

The girls did an exceptionally fine job on the tumbling and apparatus work that followed, indicating a great deal of work and skill.

The finale followed and not a more impressive part than "Men in Silver" could have been picked. With the lights out and only spots used, "Richard Hegerty, John 'Toby' Shea and Ron Wool, each covered in silver, formed several athletic stances and then finished up by holding letters to make "WHS"—holding their form, but rotating in a circle—while Coral Tome sang the alma mater.

The accompanists for the two night performances were Stavroule Fanos, Toulia Fanos, Rebecca Munn and Ann Wendelboe, and the aides, clad in white uniforms, were J. Gotto, D. Hendrickson V. Kittner, R. Pederson, S. Warren and T. Wood.

The Whistle Blows for Ben Taylor

Ben Taylor has always been taken pretty much for granted as a good citizen and an outstanding football official. Sometimes a man isn't really appreciated until death lunges out from the sidelines and sends him to the bench for all time. This was the case, Saturday night, when word of Ben's sudden passing brought sadness to his many friends. Around town the fans, old and young, had a good word to say for Ben and they readily gave him, along with Hank Walker, well-merited praise for helping Warren to attain its good name in sports. Not only have Warren teams won a good reputation for fine sportsmanship, but for many years the town was famous for its efficient and always fair officials, Ben and Hank.

BEN TAYLOR

It isn't too often that a visiting team is entirely satisfied to entrust a game to hometown referees. Teams which played in Warren over a period of many years always were satisfied with the local men. They were fair and honest, and, in their own category, helped the town to attain its enviable reputation in sports.

Ben played football for Warren High School back in 1908 and 1909 in the days of Averill, the Branns, Brown, DeLong, Giselbrecht, Kidder, Lacy, Wendelboe, Martin, McMichael, Mead, Ostergard, Vic Offerle, Reese, Russell, Schaeffer, Schofield, Schuler, Dietrich, Nathan and Murphy. He attended Bellefonte Academy two years and was football captain there when a senior. He played freshman football at Penn State for a year and after returning to Warren he took a great interest in the high school squad and helped J. B. Leidig for a number of years. "Ben was always unstinting in his service to better athletics," Mr. Leidig said today. "He never criticized anyone and was forever anxious to help."

Ben and Hank served as officials for many years without pay. Hank reminisced today that their first recompense was a gift of a pair of shoes. They officiated under direction of the Eastern Intercollegiate Board until the PIAA was formed when they were in the first group to win approval as officials. Barney Senger made it a triumvirate of good officials in the later years. Both Ben and Hank served as referees until 1941.

The local officials received a fine compliment from the Clarion Independent team one certain year. After the Moose Independents of Warren had played Clarion to a tie score in two games, it was decided to play a third game at the old fairgrounds in Warren. Clarion asked for Ben and Hank to officiate and this third game also resulted in a deadlock. On that old gloom team were, among others, Timmy Burns, Jockey Connors, John Berdine, Red Linquist, Bunny Boynton, Bill Paris, Porter Marker, Tip Stanford of Sheffield, and Bowers of Jamestown.

Always level-headed, conscientious, courteous, and friendly, Ben Taylor has left his mark in Warren. Football heroes do not all perform on the gridiron. Ben Taylor's fairness and honesty will be remembered as long as the pigskin is kicked, as long as the whistle blows. His unending rest has been earned. God Bless him for the example he set, for the fame he brought to the town of Warren.

McClintock Team Wins Gra-Y League Title With 12 Victories

With final games played Saturday, McClintock School was pronounced the undisputed champion of the 1952-53 version of the Gra-Y Basketball League. The West Enders, under Coach Dave Olson, completed the campaign with clean record of 12-0.

Bill Mervine was next high for Home with eight points and Faslett tallied five. Heading the opposition's point-making was little Pete Ostergard, with eight markers. Dick Fowler, Chuck Cassell, Kirtz Lesters and Lou Mascaro completed the scoring with seven, six, five and two points respectively.

In the wind-up on the "Y" court Saturday McClintock romped over Lacy, 40-29, and South Street nearly staged the upset of the season, but lost to second-place Home Street, 29-28.

Nicky Creola and Joey Massa paced McClintock's victory with 13 and 12 points respectively. Also for the champs, Tom Watson hit for six, R. Kane had four, Irvin made three and H. Kane two. For Lacy, Craig Johnson was the big gun, dropping in nine, while Hessley and Trauffer each had four

Style Shop vs. Youngsville, Rockets vs. Scholars Tonight

The YMCA-City cage circuit enters its final week of play tonight, with the exception of one make-up game between Wills Cleaners and Warren Business School that could be declared unnecessary.

In the opener this evening Youngsville will have its last chance for a second-half victory over the Style Shop and the Schoolboys will face the Rockets in the night cap at 8 o'clock.

Browns' Switch To Baltimore Will Get Green Light Today

By JACK HAND

Tampa, Fla., (AP)—The American League is expected to give Bill Veck the green light today in his efforts to shift the St. Louis Browns franchise to Baltimore.

Lou Perini's plans to move the Boston Braves to Milwaukee will come up for vote Wednesday when the National League meets at St. Petersburg following an American Association meeting earlier the same day.

No solid resistance to either move appeared at yesterday's Executive Council meeting at Bel Air, Fla., where Commissioner Ford Frick held a preliminary hearing with officials of the four clubs and leagues involved.

Approval by the American League at today's special meeting scheduled for 11:00 a. m. at Tampa would not bring major league ball to Baltimore officially. It would still require the sanction of the International League, which will meet within the next 48 hours, as soon as the scattered officials can get together.

Frick told both Veck of the Browns and Lou Perini, president of the Braves, they must follow the established rules of procedure in their franchise shifts. He pointed out each move must have the approval of the major and minor leagues concerned.

Boone Hasn't Shown Cleveland Pitchers He Is a Shortstop

BY HARRY GRAYSON:
NEA Sports Editor

TUCSON, Ariz.—(NEA)—Cleveland led the American League in everything last season except the standings. But the Indians showed the way in errors, too, and that has the pitchers worried. Ray Boone and Bobby Avila each were guilty of 28 and couldn't make the double play. Luke Easter and Al Rosen were charged with 18 apiece, and scorers more frequently than not are lenient.

"Our infielders turned in a remarkable job of making nearly every ball hit to them look like a bad hop," says one of the older pitchers, a famous name.

"We're hoping that either Boone fields better or George Strickland hits more."

After Strickland was installed as the regular shortstop, Aug. 25, the Tribe took 24 of its last 32 games for a percentage of .750, but the New Orleans stylis's three-year major league batting average is an even .200.

Hank Greenberg and Al Lopez profess to believe that like Boone will develop into the genuine big league shortstop the Indians have needed so badly since the departure of Lou Boudreau.

CLEVELAND'S brass did not decide to make a shortstop of Boone until six years after he broke in as a catcher.

"Boone is one of those fellows a manager feels he has to find a place for because he is too good a hitter to be sitting in the dugout," explains the veteran pitcher who is suffering with the remainder of a creaking staff.

"And what a spot—shortstop—to use a player strictly for his hitting and regardless of his fielding!"

"Boone's a nice fellow, conscientious, gives all he's got, but in four full seasons with us he has not shown me that he has any part of the mechanical equipment required by a shortstop."

Charged with 21 boos in 86 games in 1949, 26 in 109 outings in '50, Boone topped AL shortstops with 33 in '51, when his batting dropped from .301 to .233.

Bill Veck dug up the cash part of the $150,000 deal that brought Shortstop Bill Hunter, the Texas League's most valuable player from the Brooklyn organization to the Browns.

Chatting with the great Cleveland pitchers, more than ever you wonder just what Henry Greenberg was waiting for.

Penn State Claims Mat Title for Third Consecutive Season

Princeton, N. J., (AP)—The Eastern Intercollegiate Wrestling Championship went to Penn State for the third straight year Saturday night. The Nittany Lions had 31 points, six more than runner-up Cornell.

The winners retained two of their individual titles but lost a third when Cornell's Don Fick whipped Joe Lenyre, NCAA champ and defending titlist in the 167-pound bracket, in the semifinals and went on to take the crown.

Dick Lemyre, Joe's brother, and Gerald Maurey were the Lions' winners. Dick held onto his 180-pound crown and Maurey his 137-pound title.

Frank Betucci of Cornell won his third straight 147-pound title, pinning Don Frey of Penn State in 4:39 of the final match.

Werner Seel, of Lehigh, won the heavyweight title.

THE VOICE OF LOVE

William Neubauer

Chapter 18

RUTH went across the hall, knocked, then pushed into Nancy's room. She found the girl sprawled across the bed, reading another book on the art of acting.

"Hello, Nancy!"

"Oh, it's you, de-ah."

Through supercilious eyes Nancy studied her briefly, then turned a page.

Ruth chuckled and sat down. It was good, she decided, to have a kid sister. Kid sisters were a problem at times, but they were also jolly to have around.

"Mr. Curtis thinks you have talent!"

Nancy snapped the book shut. A strange stiffness made her face suddenly look two or three years older. "I don't know whether I like him, Ruth. He talks very well, but there's something about him that—well, I like Mr. Hufford better."

"Dan?"

The girl's head went up and down, energetically. "Oh, he's swell! Have you noticed he doesn't ever laugh at Mr. Hufford?"

"I like him, too, Nancy. As a matter of fact, I may even love him. Does that strike you as strange?"

"It strikes me as nice," she said firmly. Then she remembered she adored Bob and a stricken expression obliterated her smile. "You sure?"

"No."

"You're funny, Ruth. Sometimes I sit here and think I know a lot more about life than you do."

Ruth crossed her legs and smiled wistfully. "I won't deny that I'm confused."

"Everybody is at such times," said worldly Seventeen. "That's the way people are."

Ruth supposed that was true.

"What did you want me to do?"

"Nothing, I guess. I had some childish thought about dragging you over to Bob's place, ostensibly because you were desperate for a horseback ride."

"I thought about that days ago," announced Nancy. "But then I decided it'd be silly. You don't get anywhere chasing men. You've got to make 'em drool. Then they'll chase you and you're in the driver's seat."

"Such a worldly girl!"

"Besides, if you don't love him, why do you want to see him?"

"I don't know."

Nancy giggled. "Say, you're really mixed up, aren't you?"

Ruth decided this conversation wasn't helping her, either. She went back to her room. She got into slacks and yellow cashmere again and went across the front lawn to one of the benches overlooking Main Street and the ocean.

THAT was better, much better. Her mother came along and sat down beside her. They had a grand, silly time waving to everyone they knew and making bets as to when the soaring pelicans would or wouldn't dive for fish. Ruth won five bets in a row. As a girl she'd noticed that just before a pelican dived he signalled his intention of doing so by hitching up a shoulder and swinging in a tight half-circle. She pointed that habit out to her mother. Her mother was fascinated. She asked questions about gulls and sandpipers, dowitchers and sanderlings, and the first thing Ruth knew she was feeling herself again. This time she was fascinated by her mother.

"You're clever. You know that? You're really very clever."

"Glad you've finally noticed," came the laughing reply. "By the way, would you like to go to San Francisco with me next week? Ephraim should have a new suit. If he's to spend the summer campaigning he'll have to look the part of a mayor."

"That would be nice," Ruth grew excited. Her mother knew

Many Interviewed Here for Positions In Erie GE Plant

J. R. Holmes, O. A. Ray and W. F. Kinsinger, personnel department representatives from the big General Electric Plant in Erie, had a busy time in Warren today when they started to interview job applicants who reported at the Pennsylvania State Employment office, 225 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

The Erie men will be here through Friday from 8:30 a. m. until 12 and from 1 until 5 p. m. Using the last digits of social security numbers as an interview preference guide, it is expected that about 50 men per day will be interviewed. David W. Levine, in charge of the State office here, said this afternoon that many former employees of the Knox Glass Bottle Company, of Sheffield, which discontinued operations on Saturday, reported for interviews today.

Mr. Levine also said that representatives from his office will start interviews in the township building, Sheffield, Wednesday, March 25, with hours from 8:30 a. m. until 3 p. m.

The G. E. men said today that jobs are open in practically every department of the Erie plant.

Let's have just 1 killing

Let spring put an end to winter. But no other killings, please. Certainly not the needless deaths of traffic accidents. This spring, watch out for pedestrians who may not be as apt as the weather. Don't speed, just because the roads happen to be dry.
